Abstract-The Present paper deals with the flora of seed bearing plants of Ajmer district which is purely based on floristic exploration during the period of 2013-2015. A total number of 350 species belonging to 220 genera and 70 families are included in present paper, in which 1 from Gymnosperm and remaining 349 belongs to Angiosperm. Predominant families in this flora are Poaceae (34 species), Fabaceae (28 species), Asteraceae (23 Species), Euphorbiaceae (21 species), Caesalpiniaceae (17 species), Mimosaceae (14), Malvaceae (11 species), Convolvulaceae (11 species), Tiliaceae (11 species).

Keyword: Spermatophytic Flora, Ajmer, Rajasthan.

I. Introduction

Proposed study area, Ajmer district is situated in the center of Rajasthan at latitude 26°27' N and longitude 74°44' E. This district is bounded by Pali district to the West, Bhilwara district to the South, Jaipur and Tonk districts to the East and Nagaur district to the North. It covers an area of 8481 km².

The climate along with the Ajmer district is subtropical. The climatic conditions are characterized by three season i.e. winter (November-February), summer (March-June) and Mansoon (July-October).

II. Climatic factor

Temperature-

Hottest month of year – May (Minimum 26°C, Maximum. 42°C)

Coldest month of year – January (Minimum 8°C, Maximum 20°C)

Rainfall-

Most of the rainfall occurs in the mansoon period from July-September. Winter rains are rare; the average annual rainfall is 527.3 mm.

Humidity-

The relative humidity is minimum in the hot weather months i.e. March, April, and May, where as it is maximum during the monsoon months i.e. July, August and September. However it is lowest in April and highest in August.

Soil-

Mostly type of soil is sandy gravel. Some areas of district are rocky. This area is facing the problem of overgrazing due to not properly protected, so quality of soil becoming poorer which results some perennial shrubs into stunted and bushy.

III. Review

Almost all types of plant habits i.e. Grasses, Herbs, shrubs and trees are present in this area and classified as the 'scrub jungle'. On the basis of age all three types i.e. annual, biennial and perennial plants are present in this district.

As Indian botanists have emphasized their attention for intensive exploration and compilation of plants resources of the country, this work will be helpful for above purpose for state as well as National flora.

During last 40 years study of flora of Rajasthan has been attended by several workers. Bhandari (1979) have worked on flora of Western Rajasthan, Sharma and Tiagi (1979) worked on flora of North-Eastern part of Rajasthan and Sharma (2002) investigated the flora of Rajasthan which covers mainly the eastern part of the state. Shetty and Singh (1987, 1991 and 1993) have presented the flora of Rajasthan.

Tiagi and Aery (2007) have published addition to the flora of South and south-East Rajasthan. So many flora of the district level have been attempted by different workers time to time. These are the flora of Banswara (Singh 1983), flora of Bikaner (Parmar et al 1985), Tonk (Shetty and Pandey 1983). Some workers had contributed in different district flora such as in flora of Bhilwara (Parmar & Singh, 1982), flora of Pali (Pandey & Singh, 1989), flora of Jalore by (Vyas et al., 1985), flora of Ganganagar by (Singh & Dhillon, 1989) and phytodiversity of Nagaur by (Sharma & Aggarwal, 2008), Although phytodiversity of Ajmer had been studied in part like Grasses and sedges of Ajmer (Sharma, Gena and Joshi 1990), Medicinally important wild plants (Sharma 1978), Ethno- medicinal plants (Mishra, Billore, Yadav and Chaturvedi 1992), Leguminous diversity (Harsh and Tak 2017) and Medicinal plants (Dixit and Mishra 1976) But the study of complete phytodiversity of Ajmer district has not been recorded.

The present work is an endeavor to begin with the complete phytodiversity of this region. For the collection of voucher specimens as future reference and their preservation, herbarium methodology given by Jain & Rao (1976) was followed. All the plant specimens have been Identified with the help of — Flora of Rajasthan (Shetty and Singh 1987, 1991, 1993), Flora of Indian Desert (Bhandari, 1978), Flora of Rajasthan - Hadoti region (Sharma), Flora of North-East Rajasthan (Sharma and Tiagi, 1979) and, and Flora of Rajasthan-South and South East Rajasthan (Tiagi and Aery, 2007). Identification of specimens was confirmed and authenticated by comparing them with herbarium specimens of Department of Botany, Govt. Dugar (P.G.) College, Bikaner (Raj.), Botanical Survey of India, Jodhpur (Rajasthan), and preserved in the Herbarium, Department of Botany, M. S. Girls College, Bikaner (Rajasthan). The taxa are arranged alphabetically under their respective families which are arranged according to the classification of Bentham and Hooker (1862-1883). Identification of the species is based on the flora of Bhandari (1995) and Shetty & Singh (1987-93).
